English

Week	Classwork	Homework	Resources
1) 13 th March	Your lessons this week are taken over by your mocks. Please attend all lessons that are running during this time to make sure you are prepared for your remaining exam (Literature Paper Two)	Use the resources from your previous revision plan to support your independent revision.	Literature English Revision Guide ppt/PDF for hints, tips and supporting material YouTube – there are a range of video resources that could support you, such as Mr Bruff's analysis videos.
2) 20 th March	In these lessons, you will be completing a review of Language Paper Two Section B (Q5). You will also use this as your Spoken Language grade. This is a separate score to your other GCSE grades for which you will awarded a Pass, Merit or Distinction. Lesson One: What do I already know about Lang	You will be using this time to review your Language knowledge. Use the Revision Guide for Language (in resources section) to support you in reviewing your knowledge of Language Paper Two Depending on your level of need, either complete: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A full practice paper that you complete to time • A timed essay plan for practice Q5's, taking no more than 10 minutes to complete the outlines of the plan 	Remember, just watching or reading material is not revision – do something with it to absorb the information, such as spaced retrieval (explored in the Retrieval practice ppt)

This will be used as your mock mark for this question. Lesson Three: How does this translate into spoken language? Lesson Four: Performance of Spoken Language alongside your Q5.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Flashcards of the key elements for this paper, such as key question skills, such as language or structural analysis 	Revision Guide for Language (Overview) Revision Guide for Language (Questions)
3) 27th March	This week, your lessons will involve the completion of a walking-talking version of Language Paper Two Section A. You are sitting this in class rather than as a full mock as you sat this paper most recently, and it is one that you can self-assess your progress on in lesson. Lesson One: Working with the sources to identify	Create a bank of quotation flashcards. You need to select 2-3 quotations per the themes specified below. For each quote you need to write the method and the impact of method. An example is included below: An Inspector Calls – Responsibility, Generations, Socialism, Capitalism, Social Class and Gender

Question three walkthrough and completion. Lesson Three: Question three self-assessment against exam criteria. Question four walkthrough and completion (may be partial based on time) Lesson Four: Question four completion and self-assessment. Reflection on LP2 scores and revision priorities. Set revision goals based on this for Easter revision.	A Christmas Carol – Redemption, Family, Poverty, Social Class, Religion, Christmas and Charity Macbeth – Power, Gender, Appearance vs. reality, Religion, Loyalty and betrayal and supernatural Power and Conflict – Power, conflict, nature, war, identity, loss and memory. Use these flashcards to practice spaced retrieval on your priorities for revision. You should select the areas that you found most difficult in your recent mocks. Be self-reflective: you are the person best placed to target your revision so take time to plan this out carefully.
Easter Half-term: Use your CGP revision guides, alongside all of your other revision material to complete a full range of the existing revision strategies outlined in previous plans. You should look to complete 2-3 20-minute revision sessions a day on your revision priorities, or an hour every other day on each topic, whichever suits your revision timetable more.

Use spaced retrieval – plan which topics you will return to and how often at the beginning of the week. Stick to this plan – your revision must be consistent for it to be effective.
