

Swaziland

Get off the beaten track on an adventure through Swaziland: one of Southern Africa's least explored but most exciting destinations. You'll have the chance to see awesome safaris and diverse trekking opportunities, in addition to rewarding and sustainable project work. If you are looking for a fantastic adventure and an unforgettable all-round trip, this is the one for you and your team!

The best time to go: April–October to avoid the rains

Terrain

The terrain of Swaziland is varied, with highlands and mountains, but the country is mainly savannahs.

Climate

November–March is around 20°C with heavy rains. The rest of the year is dry, with an average temperature of between 13–19°C.

Language

Brush up on your language skills – you'll come across people who speak Afrikaans and SiSwati.

Time zone

GMT +2

Accommodation

Typical accommodation includes hostels and tents.

Explore

To get acclimated to Swaziland's climate and culture, you'll embark on a trek around the Malolotja Nature Reserve, one of the most impressive wildlife areas in southern Africa. It's managed by the Swaziland National Trust Commission on behalf of the Swazi King!

Challenge yourself

Teams can spend up to four days exploring the Ngwempisi Gorge – an impressive 500m deep rugged granite gorge in the South. You'll get the chance to stay at 'Rock Lodge' which is built into the rocks and spectacularly located high above the gorge with incredible panoramic views.

"An amazing moment was meeting the family of Mbali. Despite the thousands of miles between us and culture difference we managed to find a lot of common ground such as sport, music and even Macbeth. Sharing stories and experiences with the locals really helped make our expedition an even more amazing experience."

Sophie, Challenger

In 2016, in partnership with All Out Africa, we dug a reservoir, installed pipe work and a 5,000 litre water storage unit, providing a permanent water supply for Ndinda National Care Point. Nine teams in total were involved with the project.

Contribute

There are plenty of opportunities to immerse yourself in the Swazi way of life. We work very closely with All Out Africa's charitable foundation projects, enabling teams to help improve education facilities for orphaned and vulnerable children in Swaziland. Get stuck into various tasks from painting, and construction to conservation and agricultural work. Absorb the vibrancy of everything African culture has to offer – sing, dance, eat, play, laugh!

Our In-Country Agent for Swaziland is Rols. He is the owner of All Out Africa, and he has travelled extensively in Southern Africa. He speaks English and siSwati, and is always willing to help teams out.

Chill out

Get out there on safari in Swaziland's National Parks or take on ten epic zip wires across the Ngwempisi Gorge. Swaziland protects a vast variety of animals, birds and flora. From the rarely spotted but magnificent Big Five to cheeky warthogs, gentle antelope and reptiles, Swaziland is home to virtually all the wild animals of Africa.
