

Health and Social Care homework booklet

RO21 - LO1

1. Name the 5 individual rights (3C'sPE)

2. Choose one of the individual rights, Examples of how these rights can be maintained?

3. At Oak Trees residential home residents are given choices about the activities that they do and the food that they eat. Explain how this will affect the resident.

Hint - think about why it is important to maintain rights

4. Complete the table below describing how these strategies could be done in a residential home or nursery

	Description of how this could be done in nursery or residential home	How this will make the service user feel
Using language and vocabulary that can be understood.
Not being patronising.
Listening to individual's needs.
Adapting language to meet the needs of in the individual for that situation.
Emphasising words
Using gestures
Changing the speed they speak
Use a cheerful tone.

5. By providing up to date information describe how these strategies could be done in a residential home or nursery setting. (Location has been done for you as an example)

	Description of how this could be done in nursery or residential home
Time service opens
Type of care provided
Location of services.	Have full address with postcode on their website so that people know where the service is. Have directions by train, bus and road on their website so people know how to get there using different transport links.
Alternative services available

6. What are the three ways for challenging discriminatory behaviour?

7. In a recent inspection at Busy Bee nursery there were several incidents recorded in which discrimination was observed. In one incident there was a boy whose parents were in a same sex marriage and some other children were making fun of them, calling the boy names.

Explain what staff should have done at the time of the incident?

8. Explain what the nursery should do long term to prevent discrimination between children in this way in future

9. Give two ways that staff should maintain confidentiality in a hospital.

10. Give three examples of choice the residents at a residential home could be given.